Part 1

Coco Kitten saw a white moon moth dancing above the garden. Its wings made slow circles in the silver moonlight.

Part 2

Coco wanted a closer look. She rushed forward, but the moth flew high and hid behind a tall leaf.

Part 3

Coco sat down and made her paws still. ‘I can wait,’ she whispered, keeping her tail quiet on the grass.

Part 4

The moth peeked over the leaf and opened its soft white wings. Coco blinked slowly and did not reach, chase, or jump.

Part 5

Soon the moth floated down and danced around Coco. It made one loop, two loops, and a soft twist in the air.

Part 6

Coco copied the dance from the ground. She turned once, stepped twice, and swished her tail without touching the moth.

Part 7

The moth rested for one moment on Coco’s purple bow. Coco stayed very still until it lifted away.

Part 8

Coco watched the moth finish its night dance. She learned that patience lets a shy new friend choose when to come close.
