Part 1

Toto Turtle found four cards showing what he did that morning: wake up, wash his face, eat breakfast, and pack his little bag.

Part 2

He wanted the cards to show his real morning. Toto placed breakfast first, but then he remembered waking before he saw his bowl.

Part 3

The mixed order made Toto frown. He tapped his shell twice, took a breath, and decided to start with what happened first.

Part 4

First, Toto placed the wake-up card. The card showed him stretching beneath his yellow blanket when the sun came in.

Part 5

Second came washing his face, and third came eating breakfast. Toto told the order aloud as he touched each picture.

Part 6

The pack-the-bag card came last because Toto packed his apple and book only after breakfast was finished that morning.

Part 7

Toto turned the cards face down, then told the order from memory: wake, wash, eat, pack. He turned them over to check.

Part 8

Every card was in the right place. Toto smiled. Starting with what happened first helped him put the rest in order.
